Village church receives £185k grant to 'safeguard its future'

WORK TO START IMMEDIATELY THANKS TO HERITAGE LOTTERY FUND GRANT

A GRANT of £185,000 has given the Hinton St George Parochial Church Council (PCC) reason to celebrate.

The grant has been awarded by The Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) to make possible essential work on St George's Church in Hinton St George, near Crewkerne.

A £22,000 development grant had already been given towards a survey to establish exactly what needed to be done to safeguard the future of the church.

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

The survey was completed in May and was followed by a further application to the HLF requesting support to complete necessary work.

The HLF has now approved this application and awarded a full grant of £185,000 towards the cost of the work, which will include the following:

- Conservation work to the fabric of the church, principally the tower;

- Replacement of unsightly, unreliable and inefficient lighting;
- Removal of some pews and purchase of chairs and tables to create a flexible social space to enable wider use of the church;
- Improvements to the access to the renowned Poulett Memorial Chapel;
- Measures to enable greater engagement with the heritage of the church and the village;

As the PCC has already raised the necessary match funding, work will start immediately on the lighting.

The aim is to complete this phase in time for the Christmas period, and work on the tower will start during November.

The remaining internal works will commence in January with the aim of completing the whole project by June of next year.

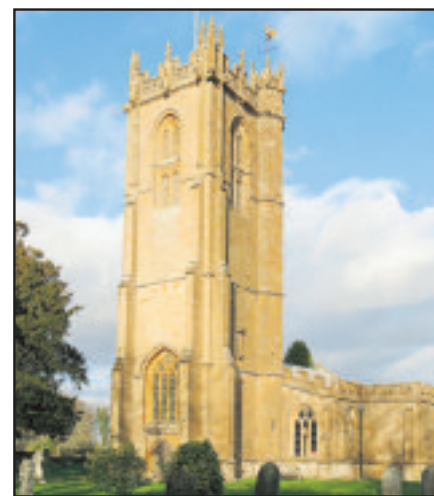

The PCC's project manager, David Clements, said: "We are absolutely delighted that HLF has given us this very significant grant without which a project of this scale would have been impossible.

"The project will not only conserve the fabric of this wonderful building for future generations but also widen the possibilities for community use and enhance the experience for visitors and residents alike."

Joint rectors Julia and Bob Hicks added: "The wonderful church of St George has been central to the worship and life of the people of Hinton St George for many centuries.

"This ambitious project will help us to reach out to the present and future generations of the community in new and exciting ways."

Nerys Watts, head of Heritage Lottery Fund South West, said: "Thanks to money raised by National Lottery players, we're pleased to support this project which secures the future of St George's Church and puts the building and its heritage at the heart of the local community."

TOP STORIES FROM ACROSS EAST DEVON AND SOUTH SOMERSET

AXMINSTER Row over dogs on Jubilee Field

ALMOST 200 people have signed a petition against banning dogs from Jubilee Field. Axminster Town Council has already indicated a U-turn, proposing to provide a fenced-off dog area earlier than planned.

Jubilee Field is the new name for the land between Musbury Road, Boxfield Road and Dukes Way.

The area previously belonged to the NHS and played host to the former St Mary's Hospital, but it now owned by developers Betterment Properties, who built a fenced-off play area in the field as part of planning conditions, but ownership of the field will be transferred to Axminster Town Council in a deal also involving East Devon District Council (EDDC).

The field has been on the agenda of the town council for a number of years.

The proposal was being discussed at Axminster Town Council yesterday evening as Pulman's View went to press.

SEATON String of errors in council accounts

AN AUDITOR has found "significant issues" with Seaton Town Council's accounting records.

South and West Internal Audit said that the issues meant the council had committed funds that did not exist, resulting in reduced reserves.

The auditor also said: "It should be emphasised that there was no evidence of misuse of funds."

Town councillors themselves decided in June to undertake a full and detailed audit of its accounts after it emerged that system statements could not be reconciled against bank statements.

Former mayor Tony Woodman, who chaired the council during 2015-15, said: "I knew nothing about it, the figures I was given by staff and the finance committee I took as accurate."

Former town clerk Chris Drake declined to comment.

From the editor's chair (Don't) send in the clowns

THIS week's column is all about clowns. I am tempted to say, no not your local council (unnecessarily harsh?), but the craze which is sweeping the country and last week arrived in Somerset and Devon.

Apparently, and I can't quite believe I'm writing this, there have been reports nationwide of people dressing up as clowns with the intention of frightening others. What is the world coming to?

Clowns are meant to be fun characters but it's surprising how many children, and even some adults, find them intimidating.

We have a ceramic clown in our house which used to occupy a prominent place as you came down our stairs and one of my daughters was really spooked by it.

But clowns have always been considered harmless enough – up to now. Apparently, the idea is to jump out and scare passers-by or even motorists.

We report this week that police in Somerset have issued a statement reminding people of the consequences of dressing up in costumes with the express purpose of frightening others.

Several sightings of creepy clowns have been reported in Chard and Crewkerne, while in Chard a group to hunt down the troublemakers has been formed with the intimidating title of 'Clown Hunters Chard'.

According to social media, there were also instances of a clown in Axminster being spotted under the A35 flyover near the Axminster Carpets shop and there was an increase in local traffic with people trying to find more.

It will not surprise anyone that the craze has been imported from across the Atlantic.

I blame Donald Trump – the biggest clown I can recall. With all that hair he doesn't even need a mask!

■ THANK you to the reader from Ilminster who wrote to me this week praising this column's use of the word "an" before referring to an hotel and not "a" as is the norm these days.

I always remember my first sub-editor, a frightening Scotsman called Andy Buchan, who always drilled into the young reporters – "it's AN hotel not A hotel, sonny". Old habits die hard.

The lady in question wishes to start a campaign to "bring back the an".

HONITON Fight to save hospital beds is on HONITON mayor, Councillor Caroline Kolek, will be joined by other outraged officials to speak at a rally to unite the public in the fight to save the town hospital's inpatient beds.

Cllr Kolek, a former parliamentary candidate for Labour, will speak on behalf of the town council and will be joined by independent Devon County Councillor Claire Wright, who has been an outspoken critic of the bed closures throughout East Devon.

Also speaking will be Conservative East Devon District Councillor Mike Allen and town councillor Henry Brown. Representatives from Hospital League of Friends and other organisations linked with the hospital have also been invited to speak.

Honiton Senior Voice is helping to organise the rally.

The public meeting at Mackarness Hall takes place on Wednesday, October 12th, with doors opening at 7pm for a 7.30pm start.

COLYTON Green wedge development back on agenda

THE green wedge between Colyford and Seaton has been brought to the fore again, as developers have amended previous plans with the hope of building homes, offices, industrial units and a football pitch on the site.

Objectors are set to put up another fight with the Seaton & Colyford Green Wedge Community Action Group having a public meeting to discuss the plans tomorrow (Wednesday, October 12th) at 7pm at Seaton Town Council Office Meeting Room at the Marshlands Centre in Harbour Road.

The application was also expected to be discussed by Colyton Parish Council last night (Monday).

The application can be viewed online at <http://bit.ly/2dDeyUS>

Hospital partly reopens after flood

SOME outpatient services, including X-ray and ultrasound, are up and running again at Axminster Community Hospital after last week's burst water pipe and subsequent flooding.

A spokesperson for Royal Devon & Exeter NHS Foundation Trust said:

"Unfortunately, as telephony is still not operational, the day-case unit and therefore theatre sessions and linked clinics remain closed.

"We are grateful for the patience of the public and staff while we continue to work hard to fully reopen."

Bungalow fire was accidental

A SEATON bungalow fire was started accidentally, firefighters say.

Fire engines from stations in Seaton, Colyton and Axminster were despatched to a property in West Acres just after 4pm on Sunday, October 9th.

A spokesperson for Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue said:

"On arrival the crews confirmed this was a fire within a bungalow and the building was heavily smoke logged.

"They got to work using two breathing apparatus wearers with a hose reel jet.

"All occupants were out of the property and nobody was harmed.

"The fire was extinguished using a total of four breathing apparatus wearers, two hose reel jets, two thermal imaging cameras and a positive pressure ventilation fan to ventilate the property."

The spokesperson also said that the cause of the fire was accidental and originated in a bedroom which sustained most of the damage.

SIDMOUTH Road warden scheme success

DEVON County Council is committing more than £100,000 to its Community Road Warden scheme following its successful rollout in Sidmouth.

Sidmouth was chosen as part of a pilot scheme in five parishes and towns across Devon earlier this year, where volunteers were trained to repair minor potholes.

The Department for Transport has shown an interest in Devon's innovative work on the Road Warden scheme. Devon is hoping the scheme will help attract more funding for highway maintenance in the county in future.

Safety defect repairs on the highway will continue to be carried out by Devon County Council.

Renowned conductor dies just weeks after attending Somerset school event

WORLD famous music conductor Sir Neville Marriner, who opened a music room in North Perrott last month, died on October 2nd at the age of 92.

The ribbon capping ceremony at Perrott Hill School, near Crewkerne, was one of his last official engagements before his death.

Sir Neville was born in Lincoln but lived in East Devon for the last 42 years.

One of his last public appearances was at Perrott Hill School on September 16th, when he formally opened the new music room.

Sir Neville founded touring and recording chamber orchestra Academy of St Martin in the Fields in 1958.

Academy music director Joshua Bell said: "I am deeply saddened by the news of Sir Neville Marriner's passing. He was one of the most extraordinary human beings I have ever known."

"I will remember him for his brilliance, his integrity, and his humour, both on and off the concert platform."

"Maestro Marriner will always be the heart and soul of the Academy of St Martin in the Fields, and we musicians of the orchestra will miss him dearly."

Academy chairman Paul Aylieff added: "We are greatly saddened by the news. Sir Neville's artistic and recording legacy, not only with the academy but with orchestras and audiences worldwide is immense."

"He will be greatly missed by all who knew and worked with him and the academy will ensure it continues to be an excellent and fitting testament to Sir Neville."

The statement also said that the Sir Neville's family was very touched by all the messages of sympathy.

Honoured three times for his services to music in this country – most recently being made a Companion of Honour by the Queen in June 2015 – Sir Neville was also awarded honours in France, Germany and Sweden.

District council urges owners of empty properties to help with housing shortage

PEOPLE with empty properties in South Somerset are being urged to get in touch with the district council so it can bring them back to life and help with a housing shortage.

South Somerset District Council works with the Somerset Care and Repair organisation on a range of schemes to bring much-needed empty properties back into use.

Working with the council, Somerset Care and Repair identifies empty properties in need of attention.

These homes are often neglected and derelict, and in need of extensive repairs. Overgrown gardens can be a nuisance to the neighbours and can attract mice and vermin.

Properties often become empty as a result of a death in the family and once a family member has acquired the property, they are not sure what to do with it or have not carried out the work due to the cost or scale of the refurbishment.

Somerset Care and Repair is a charity and a not-for-profit organisation. It organises repairs and a management service for owners of empty properties and is currently working on a project at the former Milford Inn in Yeovil to convert it into six new flats with the help of young unemployed people or college students who want to pursue a career in the building trade.

A similar project at a property in South Street in Yeovil has also just commenced.

Kevin Lake, a director of Somerset Care and Repair and project lead, has found the scheme to be very beneficial for apprentices.

He said: "As well as bringing much needed accommodation back into use, the scheme also provides onsite construction training to the long term unemployed, as such this is a win, win project whereby everyone gains."

Councillor Ric Pallister, the district council's housing spokesman, added: "I am very proud of the fact that Somerset Care and Repair have a major focus on South Somerset."

"They are a first class charity that is having a positive impact on the lives of many whom society has "missed" and in the process providing much needed homes."

"They are going from strength to strength and the council will do all it can to support and encourage this community based organisation that has dedicated itself to turning lives around."

"Building a sense of self-worth based on skills and training is a fantastic achievement."

The district council is keen to address the shortage in housing. Bringing empty homes back into use goes some way to tackling the problem.

If you have an empty property and not sure what to do with it, then the council will be able to provide assistance as it recognises that whilst empty, a property is no use to anyone.

The council can also provide property management services tailored for your needs through Somerset Care and Repair.

If you are interested in this scheme, then please contact Kevin Lake, Somerset Care and Repair, on 01749-345379 or Emma Baker, of South Somerset District Council, on 01935 462433.

Local schools in running for Tesco grants

TWO primary schools and a playgroup in South Somerset have the chance to bag a massive cash boost but need the public's vote to decide just how much they get.

Neroche Playgroup and Greenfyld First School near Ilminster, and Buckland St Mary Primary School near Chard, have been chosen for the Tesco Bags of Help initiative.

The supermarket has teamed up with Groundwork on its Bags of Help initiative, which sees grants of £12,000, £10,000 and £8,000 – all raised from the national 5p bag levy – being awarded to environmental and greenspace projects.

Three groups in each of Tesco's 416 regions have been shortlisted to receive the cash award. Buckland St Mary Primary is part of the Chard store's competition, while Neroche playgroup and Greenfyld First School have been entered into the Ilminster's branch competition.

And this month shoppers are being invited to head along to Tesco stores to vote for who they think should take away the top grant.

A spokesperson for Buckland St Mary Primary School said: "We are absolutely thrilled and delighted to have been awarded a cash prize from the Tesco Bags of Help initiative. We know the competition was strong which makes this even more fantastic."

"This is going to make a massive difference to the children of Buckland St. Mary and their families. It also removes the need to travel to other play parks, as it will provide an attractive play space locally and will have a positive impact on the environment."

"Please vote for us, if we were to achieve the grant of £12,000 it would enable us to deliver further enhancements such as attractive seating and specially designed play equipment for the under twos."

This is the second round of the initiative: the first round saw approximately eight million shoppers vote in stores up and down the country earlier this year.

Neroche Playgroup, based at Broadway Village Hall, and Greenfyld First School are in the running in the Ilminster area.

Neroche Playgroup would like to use a grant to promote a "healthier lifestyles community project" by developing the outdoor learning environment and facilities at Broadway Village Hall.

At Greenfyld, staff would like to offer forest school family days on weekends.

This would involve families taking part in weekend sessions in forest school activities. The school would also like to be able to add equipment for families to use in activities; plant trees to create additional mini woodland walks on site; create of a covered activity zone so that sessions can go on whatever the weather and willow learning pods to help children and families explore nature

Voting is open in stores from October 31st until November 13th.

Customers will cast their vote using a token given to them at the check-out in store each time they shop.

Prime Minister praises broadband scheme

SOMERSET County Council has welcomed the Prime Minister's recognition of its work to bring superfast broadband to the county.

Theresa May used Prime Minister's Question Time last month to congratulate the authority for its work on the Connecting Devon and Somerset project.

CDS has already seen 310,000 premises connected to fibre and more than 1,500 people have benefitted from a recently launched a broadband voucher scheme which gives residents and businesses the opportunity to spend up to £500 on improved broadband.

In response to a question from Wells MP James Heapey, the Prime Minister said: "I'm happy to join you in paying tribute to the council for the work that it has been doing to bring broadband connectivity to the county."

Somerset County Council's business, inward investment and policy spokesman, Councillor David Hall, said: "Working closely with our Devon colleagues, a huge amount of effort has gone into this project and it's always welcome to have that effort and success recognised, especially when that recognition comes from the PM."

The tax-payer subsidised programme aims to bring faster broadband to areas unlikely to benefit from wholly commercial operations.

Live connections are expected on Exmoor this autumn as part of the Airband element of the project which is delivering connectivity to the Exmoor and Dartmoor National Parks.

A procurement exercise is underway to deliver the second phase of the CDS project, which means tens of thousands of additional premises across Devon and Somerset will benefit from superfast coverage by 2019.

Town councillors test out troublesome dropped kerbs

CHARD town councillors and local residents joined forces to assess the condition of dropped kerbs throughout the town.

All of the dropped kerb problems will be collated by the town council and then sent to Somerset County Council as a request for a plan to improve them.

Councillor Amanda Broom, Chard Combe Ward, said: "The idea to do this came from a resident in my ward, they have a disabled son and find accessing Chard cemetery from the bottom entrance impossible - any visits result in an extended walk up to the top entrance, which is unnecessary and difficult.

"This is just one example, every ward in Chard has its own issues and it's great that we are all working together to send County Council a clear request for a plan of action."

Councillors from every ward in Chard attended and each will now collate the information relating to dropped kerbs in their ward and provide a detailed plan to Chard town clerk, Zoe Truong.

Councillor Broom added: "If you know of any kerbs in your area that need addressing, please contact your local councillor via details on Chard Town Council's website."

■ WORKING TOGETHER: Chard town councillors and residents investigated the dropped kerbs

■ YEAR 5 and 6 pupils from Chard School recently enjoyed an exciting morning at the Thelma Hulbert Gallery in Honiton. The children were shown the latest exhibition at the gallery about famous British artist Eduardo Paolozzi and even made their own pieces using techniques Paolozzi used, including making plaster of paris relief tiles by pressing random objects into plasticine and pouring the plaster on top - a technique used by Paolozzi to explore sculpture.

Butterfly talk for Wildlife Trust

ALL are welcome at an illustrated presentation by Wellington wildlife enthusiast John Marshall, who will take guests through the year showing which butterflies you can expect to see and where in his talk "Butterflies of the South West".

The talk will start at 7.30pm on Friday, October 28th at the Parish Hall in North Street, Ilminster.

For more information visit the website www.somersetwildlife.org/events. The event costs £2 for Somerset Wildlife Trust members, £3 for non-members and is free for children.

Wood burning stove fire in Donyatt

FIREFIGHTERS were called out following reports of a chimney fire on the outskirts of Ilminster.

One fire engine from Chard was mobilised on Friday, September 23rd just after 8.30pm to the problem in Donyatt.

Firefighters discovered the fire involved a wood burning stove.

Neroche pupils get a taste of life during war

MORE than 100 pupils at Neroche Primary School in Ilminster were given a hint of what life was like during the Second World War thanks to a history day, which included a mock evacuation.

The Second World War topic saw children and staff from Years 3 to Year 6 make gas mask cases and dress up in 1939 period costume for the school's evacuation to the Fleet Air Arm Museum in Yeovil. During the day the children handled artefacts and gained a huge amount of knowledge from the museum's education staff.

The evacuation took place after pupils had listened to then Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's broadcast declaring that the country was "now at war with Germany."

Oliver from Year 6 said: "It felt really strange pretending to be evacuated. The children who were actually evacuated must have been really confused about what was going to happen to them."

Headteacher Connel Boyle commented: "Seeing our staff dressed in 1930s dress was spiffing."

"The children and our parents really made a huge effort to support this exciting trip to begin our topic."

"As a result of the children being so inspired by the day, the writing produced in the school, which culminated in creating newspapers reporting the start of World War II, was exceptional."

"I cannot wait to see the children share their 1940s dance routines with their parents at our topic assembly later in the year."

Fashion show raises village shop funds

IT was a great night out for girls of all ages when a fashion show was held in The Millennium Hall in Seavington.

The hall was full to capacity for the the autumn/winter fashion collection presented by Travelling Trends, an enterprise which enables charitable causes to raise funds, have fun and purchase high street brands at bargain prices.

Six ladies from Seavington braved the catwalk and modelled outfits to suit the colder weather and special occasions.

They were warmly received by the audience, which provided them with plenty of applause and encouragement.

The event was in aid of Seavington Community Store and the £800-plus profit was described as "a fantastic contribution" to the store funds to be used for extra amenities for the shop and cafe.

Organiser Marion Bennett said: "It was a really good event enjoyed by villagers and visitors of all ages.

"The models were fantastic and we are delighted with the contribution to our store funds."

The store is the hub of the local community and many visitors come from neighbouring towns and villages to enjoy the shop, cafe, art and craft exhibitions and the friendly atmosphere.

More information on what the store has to offer is available on the website www.theseavingtons.org/village-store-cafe

SOUTH Somerset Choral Society's recent meeting in Barrington saw a £776 cheque presented to The British Heart Foundation.

The money was raised at last year's charity concert, and society chairman Philip Creed said: "The British Heart Foundation was chosen by the choir in recognition of the excellent support received by a choir member following a heart attack from which happily she made a full recovery."

South Somerset Choral Society's next performance for charity will be a carol concert at the Minster in Ilminster on Monday, December 19th.

Rocking out at Tesco!

STAFF and patrons of Tesco in Ilminster rocked out to raise funds for Diabetes UK and the British Heart Foundation. On carnival day, Nick Bolland (pictured above on guitar), Lily Martin and Helena Jones hosted a 'Rock Day' at the store and played music to help raise vital funds for the charities.

Well-known art historian and author Julian Halsby is returning for the third time to give a talk on "Post Impressionism" which, he says, will feature some "wonderful and comparatively unknown painters".

Tickets for £15, including refreshments and a sandwich lunch, have gone on sale, and for more information on booking, contact Merle on 01460 73669.

Dance group says goodbye to leader

"KEEP dancing" was the farewell message from Celia Shears, who has led a folk dancing group in Crewkerne since it first started 15 years ago.

Although she has decided that the time is right to step down, Celia has promised to keep in touch with the group, which is run under the auspices of Crewkerne & District University of the Third Age (U3A).

She has also been a member of Crewkerne Folk Dance Club for more than 30 years.

Leslye Stansfield, who takes over from Celia, said: "She is very well known on the folk dance circuit and will be very much missed."

"But she intends to call in from time to time to see how we are progressing, Celia wants us to keep dancing and that's what we intend to do."

The U3A folk dancing group meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month at the Speedwell Hall in Abbey Street, Crewkerne.

New members are welcome and for more information, contact Leslye on 01460 75760.

Suggestions to help pets during firework season

THE Autumn and winter months bring a time of explosive celebrations that can cause terror for dogs, cats and rabbits and now is the time that pet owners could be thinking about taking steps to prepare and protect their pet from the fear of fireworks.

There are several things that can be done to make it as stress free as possible.

- Most dogs and cats have a favourite place to go and hide, if not you need to create a hideaway where they can feel safe. A room that is quiet and has minimal windows is the most suitable.
- Installing an Adaptil™ or Feliway™ diffuser close to the refuge area may encourage them to settle, feel relaxed and confident. This should be done 2 - 4 weeks prior to the expected stress.
- Provide blankets for him to hide under and burrow. A woolly jumper that has your scent on can be comforting.
- Close the curtains to block out flashes of light and as much of the sound as possible.
- Take your dog out for a walk an hour before the expected stress to go to the toilet and feed him an early evening meal to help him feel relaxed. A meal high in carbohydrates such as pasta or rice is ideal.
- Play some background music that your dog normally hears (and doesn't object to!), or leave the television on.
- Offer chews and treats to your dog in his hiding place. He will then see this hiding place as a good place to go, and he can chew on these to relieve his tension.

- Ignore the sounds of the fireworks yourself and do not soothe or comfort your dog. It may be difficult to do this but it is the worst thing to do. It gives your dog the impression that there is something to be frightened of and rewards him for being scared.
- Cats need to be confined to the house and provided with a litter tray.
- If your pet gets particularly distressed we recommend you talk to your vet about short acting medication. Old-fashioned sedatives have been replaced with modern anti anxiety drugs which help treat the problem, rather than just mask it.
- Small mammals like rabbits and guinea pigs that live outside should not be forgotten. If possible move them into a shed or outhouse. Covering the front of the hutch with a blanket can help cut out some of the noise and flashes of light.

If you require any more information about helping your pet, then just call and speak to either a Vet or Veterinary Nurse who will be happy to help.

Wadham School welcomes guests on open day

■ GUIDED TOUR: Will Skinner gives prospective students a tour of the art gallery

■ HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE: A scientific task is carried out

WADHAM School in Crewkerne welcomed more than 100 prospective students and their parents to a recent open evening.

The majority of visiting students were from the partner middle schools - Swanmead Community School in Ilminster and Maiden Beech Academy in Crewkerne.

Headteacher David Derbyshire gave a welcoming address highlighting the importance of the relationship between students, the school, parents and the community.

He outlined how the school encourages every student to be the best they can be through cultivating a positive attitude to learning, mutual respect between students and adults and high teaching standards.

He also expressed delight with this year's GCSE exam results which saw 73 per cent of students achieving A* to C in maths and English.

Performance at A-level was also up, with every student applying for university attaining a place; first choice in most cases. Many students also gained apprenticeships at reputable local companies, helped by the strong relationship the school has built up with local employers.

Recently enrolled students Chloe and Noah then described their first three weeks at Wadham. They talked through the induction process and enthused about their favourite subjects, how easy it had been to make new friends and the range of activities on offer.

Mr Derbyshire said that Wadham's sixth form added to the mix making a real difference to the feel of the school.

He introduced Will Skinner, president of the Student Team, who explained differences he found in his transition to the sixth form.

He spoke about the many extracurricular activities including student trips, Children in Need events, the panto, the Christmas meal and The Rotary Chef Competition.

Visitors then had an opportunity to view the school facilities, meet teaching staff and view the work of pupils on student-led tours of the school, which included a number of interactive displays.

Later train service from Waterloo

CREWKERNE-bound rail passengers will benefit from a later service from London Waterloo on Saturdays.

South West Trains' (SWT) new timetable, which becomes effective on December 11th, sees an extension of the 8.20pm service from the capital.

The service currently only goes as far as Yeovil Junction, but will extend to Axminster when the new timetable comes into force.

In addition, the 7.25am Monday to Saturday service from Exeter St Davids to London Waterloo will be extended to six carriages for its entire journey to avoid overcrowding.

Speaking about the new timetable as a whole, SWT head of service strategy Chris Loder said: "This combination of new and extended services will provide a real boost for our passengers every week and is part of our efforts to continue to improve our services."

"They are the result of positive feedback from our passengers, as well as local stakeholders and communities and we are delighted we will be able to introduce them from this December."

"However, we are not complacent and know there are further improvements we can still make and we will continue to work with our partners and others to find further ways to develop and improve our services."

Somerset artist Brian Rice publishes book of paintings from last 64 years

THE distinguished Somerset artist Brian Rice has published a book of all his paintings from the last 64 years.

In the 1960s, Brian (pictured right) was at the heart of the London art scene, producing some of the era's most groundbreaking paintings. As part of the crowd around the Royal College of Art that included David Hockney, Peter Blake, Joe Tilson, Allen Jones and Derek Boshier, he mingled with fashion designers, rock musicians and models.

Film director Michelangelo Antonioni interviewed him when re-searching the background for "Blow Up". His works were part of the fabric of the times and appeared in many TV commercials, fashion shoots and set designs.

In the mid-1970s, Brian left the glamour of London and retreated to his roots in the West Country, having been born in Yeovil and attended the Yeovil School of Art in the late 1950s.

He became a sheep farmer near Askerswell in Dorset and taught part-time at Brighton College of Art, now the University of Brighton.

Working the land he discovered Bronze Age archaeological remains and these inspired a new artistic direction, focused on the landscape and ancient traces of habitation.

Brian's life and art merged in the 1980s when he sold his farm and bought a dilapidated 15th century house at Hewood, near Chard, on the Dorset, Devon and Somerset borders. He has spent the last 35 years restoring the house, uncovering fascinating traces of its past including inscriptions and items of folk magic.

Brian's commitment to the project led to an artistic resurgence that has produced mature artworks imbued with a sense of place and deep connection to nature.

"Brian Rice: Paintings 1952-2016" was launched shortly after the artist's 80th birthday, priced at £45. It is published by Sansom & Company with an introductory essay by Andrew Lambirth. Price £45

The Art Stable in Child Okeford, Dorset, is holding an exhibition of Brian's work until October 22nd.

County completes extensive road works ahead of winter

THE end of summer saw the completion of the largest surface dressing programme in Somerset County Council's history.

Surface dressing is a nationally-recognised maintenance technique for sealing a road, improving skid resistance and preventing water getting under the surface.

As winter approaches, this is crucial to help stop potholes forming.

This year's programme included more than 200 roads across the county, including the A30, A37 and A396, and has helped protect more than 300km of highway against deterioration – that's further than the driving distance from Taunton to Nottingham.

Councillor David Fothergill, Somerset County Council's Cabinet member for highways, said: "We're committed to maintaining our highways to the best possible standards with the funding we have available and this means using a range of different techniques for different situations."

"Surface dressing can sometimes receive criticism because initially it leaves loose chippings on the surface, but it has big benefits."

"By surface dressing an old road we can significantly extend its life for a fraction of the price of resurfacing and usually without the need for disruptive road closures.

"This year's programme was our most ambitious yet and I'm pleased we have been able to protect so many roads before the onslaught of winter."

Surface dressing involves coating an existing road with bitumen, covering it with stone chippings and then rolling it.

It differs from resurfacing which sees layers of the old road surface removed before it is then replaced with new material.

Ambulance service told it requires improvement

THE South Western Ambulance Service NHS Foundation Trust (SWASFT) service has been told it "requires improvement" following an inspection in June.

The trust has been told it must make improvements to some of its services by England's chief inspector of hospitals.

Overall the service was rated as "requires improvement" by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) although its services were rated "outstanding" for caring and "good" for being responsive.

Professor Sir Mike Richards, chief inspector of hospitals, said: "As demand for emergency care grows year by year, our ambulance services have never been busier.

"I know that South Western Ambulance Service is at the forefront of national improvements in the ambulance service, exploring better ways to deal with emergency calls so that people get the attention they need, in the right place at the right time.

"The trust has a strong and stable leadership team, which has put quality and safety as key priorities and has organised the staff and resources well across a wide geographic area, responding well, on the most part, to the most urgent calls, and working closely with other NHS providers to maximise the effectiveness of the service.

"We found staff in the emergency operations centres and emergency and urgent services to be outstanding in the way they supported people who were distressed or overwhelmed in often highly stressful situations.

"However, we also found some variation in quality across the services we inspected. There were significant gaps in mandatory training and we found the levels of staffing were not always sufficient to provide relief when staff were training, or on leave.

"I am concerned that not all staff were reporting incidents, particularly when they were verbally abused by callers.

"Some felt they did not have time to report all incidents, so losing the chance to learn from them and take appropriate action in future.

"During the inspection we identified a number of areas for improvement which we have passed on to the trust and to local commissioners. Our inspectors will return at a later date to check on their progress."

The service was rated "requires improvement" for emergency and urgent care and patient transport services, for which they were rated as "inadequate" for well led; "good" for out of hours, emergency operations centre and "outstanding" for resilience.

Ken Wenman, chief executive of SWASFT, said: "The 'outstanding' care rating for staff based in our clinical hubs handling 999 calls and our ambulance crews and first responders out on the roads across the South West is well deserved and recognises the amazing patient care delivered every day, around the clock.

"Clinical hub staff are often the first point of contact with the ambulance service and their 'outstanding' compassion, kindness and respect towards caller and patients, often under a high level of pressure' has rightly been recognised by the CQC.

"Their dedication, professionalism and 'grace' when working under 'extreme pressure', together with the 'numerous examples' of ambulance crews going the extra mile for patient comfort, along with their passion for patient care and wellbeing, is something I am extremely proud of.

"The overall rating of 'outstanding' for resilience planning reflects the robust systems in place to deliver high quality support for major incidents, large public events and special operations.

"This function also encompasses our hazardous area response teams (HART) and air ambulance provision throughout our diverse region, and the dedicated and committed staff working within it.

"No other ambulance trust has received an 'outstanding' rating for resilience, so it is an achievement we are extremely pleased with.

"We make every effort to encourage feedback from patients and I am assured that the CQC inspection team, without exception, received only positive comments from patients, something I am told is almost unheard of.

"Where there are specific lessons to learn from the report we will of course take the necessary actions to make positive changes and improvements."

Sponsored walk for Orchard Osteopaths

A TEAM from Orchard Osteopaths in Chard took on a challenging walk recently to raise funds for those who are unable to afford osteopathy.

Osteopathy is the manipulation and massage of one's skeleton and muscles to treat medical disorders and the sponsored walk was in aid of Friends of Orchard Osteopaths or FOO, which hope to provide osteopathic treatments to those in financial hardship.

Following on from a successful coffee morning and prize draw, the walk along the coastal path from Seaton to Lyme Regis was chosen as the route, which was reopened earlier this year after part of the land slipped into the sea.

For more information or to volunteer contact Teresa Pacheco, chairman of FOO by calling 01460 62103 or email manager@orchardosteopaths.co.uk

DINING OUT

Highlighting the Best Local Choices for Quality Dining

A checklist to planning your Christmas party!

#1: Set the Date

Venues fill up quickly and friends/co-workers start making plans so the sooner you set the date the easier this whole process will be.

#2: Set the Budget

- Making it accessible to everyone.
- Would a packaged party be more within the budget?

#3: Choose a Party Type

Depending on your party size, budget and location, there are a range of Christmas party routes you can go down.

- Will the party be a day or evening do? Or both?
- If a Christmas works do, are husbands, wives and partners invited?

• Would your group prefer a more intimate casual party at a bowling alley, local pub or ice skating ring?

#4: Find Your Perfect Venue

Shop around for a venue available on your dates and within your budget.

- Find out whether they offer the services you need (bespoke or packaged party) and take into consideration whether the venue is easily accessible for guests.

• Find out about accommodation at or near the venue.

- If your friends/co-workers are notorious for 'no shows' find out if you can book a minimum and add guests later.

#5: Pick a Theme

Whether you decide to go formal, wintery or 'out there', theming is key for venue decoration and letting everyone know what to wear!

- Some theme ideas include: Winter Wonderland, Christmas, Victorian/Dickens, James Bond, Masquerade, 1920s/The Great Gatsby, Fire and Ice, Narnia, Ballroom and Vintage.

• Venue Decoration: Make a list of items that relate to your chosen theme working these in with the areas you want to decorate.

#6: Organise the Catering

The food at a Christmas party can make or break the happiness of your guests (especially if they've paid for a ticket).

- Decide on the menu and food type - canapés, nibbles, three course meal.
- Organise vegetarian options and find out dietary requirements from guests.
- Ask for a menu tasting/sample.

#7: Beverage Distribution

The dreaded drink distribution all depends on your budget. There are two options:

1. Pre - order drinks
 2. Pay for what is consumed on the night.
- A good way to distribute evenly is to have set amount of bottles per table.

• Alternatively you can have an 'order from the bar' system or a drinks table where guests can help themselves.

- As to which drinks to include in the budget - red and white wines are usually the best for the 'masses'.

#8: Set up the Entertainment

Music is the obvious one, depending on whether you want a live band or DJ. This can be a make or break for the party. Some venues may have a resident DJ in for Christmas helping your process along. For package deals, before you book find out if they come with or without entertainment and what type of entertainment, if offered.

Additional popular entertainments include table to table magicians, casino tables, cabaret/circus act and party games.

#9: Co - ordinate a Seating Plan

Mixing up the seating plan for groups is a good way for everyone to branch out of their social groups / departments. If you're going to do a seating plan name cards are also a good idea!

#10: Design the Invites/Tickets

Key to knowing guest numbers, sending out invites or selling tickets is important to follow-up. Make sure tickets/invites are attractive and theme appropriate and include date, time, theme, RSVP (for invites) and venue address - all obvious but incredibly vital!

And Finally...

#11: Create an Itinerary

One handbook that entails everything you need to know about the event. Include a complete breakdown: who, what, where, when. Also enclose menu, seating plan and similar documents if you have them. Don't forget to send a copy to everyone involved!

coping with Bereavement

ANNE ROBERTS
AXE VALLEY COUNSELLING

THE LONELINESS OF A LOSS

THE pain of losing a loved one is a life experience that comes to us all. Even though death and disaster are broadcast to us on a daily basis, it is one that we hope and pray we can avoid, but, ultimately, have to face. Bereavement can leave us temporarily crushed by despair and loneliness – a loneliness that feels unremitting and isolating, even if we are surrounded by friends and family, which many people are not.

Although everyone deals with loss differently, and it covers many situations, for example, divorce or separation, childlessness or disabling injury, there are stages we go through. We experience a process of grief and mourning, and it is the quality of love and support we have during this process which can make the difference between hope for a life ahead with meaning and happiness, or descent into loneliness and depression.

Many people have family and friends to help, but sometimes, feelings about the person who has been lost or the circumstances of their death or leaving can be conflicted or traumatic. It may not be possible to share these feelings with your family, or you may feel that you are burdening them too much, in which case counselling may help.

About me:

I am a qualified counsellor with over 19 years of experience in offering professional guidance to couples and individuals wanting help or support with either relationship or personal issues, including loss and bereavement.

HOW TO HELP SOMEONE WHO'S GRIEVING

Supporting Others Through Bereavement, Grief, and Loss

www.helpguide.org

IT can be difficult to know what to say or do when someone you care about is grieving. You may be afraid of intruding, saying the wrong thing, or making the person feel even worse. Or maybe you feel there's little you can do to make things better. But while you can't take away the pain of the loss, you can provide much-needed comfort and support. There are many ways to help a grieving friend or family member, starting with letting the person know you care.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT BEREAVEMENT & GRIEF

The death of a loved one is one of life's most difficult experiences. The bereaved struggle with many intense and frightening emotions, including depression, anger, and guilt. Often, they feel isolated and alone in their grief, but having someone to lean on can help them through the grieving process.

Don't let discomfort prevent you from reaching out to someone who is grieving. Now, more than ever, your support is needed. You might not know exactly what to say or do, but that's okay. You don't need to have answers or give advice. The most important thing you can do for a grieving person is to simply be there; your support and caring presence will help him or her cope with the pain and begin to heal.

UNDERSTANDING THE GRIEVING PROCESS

www.helpguide.org

THE better your understanding of grief and how it is healed, the better equipped you'll be to help a bereaved friend or family member:

There is no right or wrong way to grieve. Grief does not always unfold in orderly, predictable stages. It can be an emotional rollercoaster, with unpredictable highs, lows, and setbacks. Everyone grieves differently, so avoid telling the bereaved what he or she "should" be feeling or doing.

Grief may involve extreme emotions and behaviors. Feelings of guilt, anger, despair, and fear are common. A grieving person may yell to the heavens, obsess about the death, lash out at loved ones, or cry for hours on end. The bereaved need reassurance that what he or she feels is normal. Don't judge them or take his or her grief reactions personally.

There is no set timetable for grieving. For many people, recovery after bereavement takes 18 to 24 months, but for others, the grieving process may be longer or shorter. Don't pressure the bereaved to move on or make them feel like they've been grieving too long. This can actually slow the healing process.

THE BEST WAY TO HELP A GRIEVING PERSON IS TO LISTEN WITH COMPASSION

ALMOST everyone worries about what to say to a grieving person. But knowing how to listen is much more important. Oftentimes, well-meaning people avoid talking about the death or mentioning the deceased person, but the bereaved need to feel that his or her loss is acknowledged, it's not too terrible to talk about, and his or her loved one won't be forgotten.

While you should never try to force someone to open up, it's important to let the bereaved know he or she has permission to talk about the loss. Talk candidly about the person who died and don't steer away from the subject if the deceased's name comes up. When it seems appropriate, ask sensitive questions—without being nosy—that invite the grieving person to openly express his or her feelings. Try simply asking, "Do you feel like talking?"

Accept and acknowledge all feelings. Let the grieving person know that it's okay to cry in front of you, to get angry, or to break down. Don't try to reason with him or her over how he or she should or shouldn't feel. The bereaved should feel free to express his or her feelings without fear of judgment, argument, or criticism.

Be willing to sit in silence. Don't press if the grieving person doesn't feel like talking. You can offer comfort and support with your silent presence. If you can't think of something to say, just offer eye contact, a squeeze of the hand, or a reassuring hug.

Let the bereaved talk about how his or her loved one died. People who are grieving may need to tell the story over and over again, sometimes in minute detail. Be patient. Repeating the story is a way of processing and accepting the death. With each retelling, the pain lessens.

Offer comfort and reassurance without minimizing the loss. Tell the bereaved that what he or she is feeling is okay. If you've gone through a similar loss, share your own experience if you think it would help. However, don't give unsolicited advice, claim to "know" what the person is feeling, or compare your grief to his or hers.

OFFER PRACTICAL ASSISTANCE

IT is difficult for many grieving people to ask for help. They might feel guilty about receiving so much attention, fear being a burden, or be too depressed to reach out. You can make it easier for them by making specific suggestions—such as, "I'm going to the market this afternoon. What can I bring you from there?" or "I've made beef stew for dinner. When can I come by and bring you some?"

Consistency is very helpful, if you can manage it—being there for as long as it takes. This helps the grieving person look forward to your attentiveness without having to make the additional effort of asking again and again. You can also convey an open invitation by saying, "Let me know what I can do," which may make a grieving person feel more comfortable about asking for help. But keep in mind that the bereaved may not have the energy or motivation to call you when he or she needs something, so it's better if you take the initiative to check in.

SUPPORTING A CHILD THROUGH BEREAVEMENT

www.helpguide.org

EVEN very young children feel the pain of bereavement, but they learn how to express his or her grief by watching the adults around them. After a loss—particularly of a sibling or parent—children need support, stability, and honesty. They may also need extra reassurance that they will be cared for and kept safe. As an adult, you can support children through the grieving process by demonstrating that it's okay to be sad and helping them make sense of the loss.

Answer any questions the child may have as truthfully as you can. Use very simple, honest, and concrete terms when explaining death to a child. Children—especially young children—may blame themselves for what happened and the truth helps them see they are not at fault.

Open communication will smooth the way for a child to express distressing feelings. Because children often express themselves through stories, games, and artwork, encourage this self-expression, and look for clues in those activities about how they are coping.

How to help a grieving child:

- Allow your child, however young, to attend the funeral if he or she wants to.
- Convey your spiritual values about life and death, or pray with your child.
- Meet regularly as a family to find out how everyone is coping.
- Help children find ways to symbolize and memorialize the deceased person.
- Keep your child's routine as normal as possible.
- Pay attention to the way a child plays; this can be one of a child's primary ways of communicating.

What not to do:

- Don't force a child to publicly mourn if he or she doesn't want to.
- Don't give false or confusing messages, like "Grandma is sleeping now."
- Don't tell a child to stop crying because others might get upset.
- Don't try to shield a child from the loss. Children pick up on much more than adults realize. Including them in the grieving process will help them adapt and heal.
- Don't stifle your tears; by crying in front of your child, you send the message that it's okay for him or her to express feelings, too.
- Don't turn your child into your personal confidante. Rely on another adult or a support group instead.

PROVIDE ONGOING SUPPORT

GRIEVING continues long after the funeral is over and the cards and flowers have stopped. The length of the grieving process varies from person to person. But in general, grief lasts much longer than most people expect. Your bereaved friend or family member may need your support for months or even years.

Continue your support over the long haul. Stay in touch with the grieving person, periodically checking in, dropping by, or sending letters or cards. Once the funeral is over and the other mourners are gone, and the initial shock of the loss has worn off, your support is more valuable than ever.

Don't make assumptions based on outward appearances. The bereaved person may look fine on the outside, while inside he or she is suffering. Avoid saying things like "You are so strong" or "You look so well." This puts pressure on the person to keep up appearances and to hide his or her true feelings.

The pain of bereavement may never fully heal. Be sensitive to the fact that life may never feel the same. You don't "get over" the death of a loved one. The bereaved person may learn to accept the loss. The pain may lessen in intensity over time, but the sadness may never completely go away.

Offer extra support on special days. Certain times and days of the year will be particularly hard for your grieving friend or family member. Holidays, family milestones, birthdays, and anniversaries often reawaken grief. Be sensitive on these occasions. Let the bereaved person know that you're there for whatever he or she needs.

Bumper crop of Beehive shows!

HONITON'S own "Sweet Black Angels" will be returning to the Beehive on Saturday, October 15th. This indie folk rock five-piece are firm favourites for a fab night out, playing originals and covers in their own inimitable style.

The half term week has a really diverse selection of shows, so there's guaranteed to be something for all tastes! The live streaming from The Garrick theatre of 'The Entertainer' by John Osbourne, starring Kenneth Branagh as the fading music hall star Archie Rice, is on Thursday, October 27th at 7pm. The Beehive will have the wonderful Pop-Up Opera performing Rossini's famous opera buffa Il Barbiere di Siviglia (The Barber of Seville) which is brought to life by the critically acclaimed company, sung in Italian with English captions. Pop-Up Opera take to the stage with this incredibly fast-paced comical farce in their adaptation of this much loved score. Witness razor-sharp timing as the ever resourceful barber, Figaro, tries to help the young Count Almaviva win the hand of the beautiful Rosina out of love rather than for his wealth. Soon the pair set about to produce many disguises for the count, and thus the farce ensues...! Nothing quite compares with Pop-up in the sheer exuberance of their productions. And this Barber of Seville may be the best thing they have yet done. The Beehive's first live opera production will be on Friday, October 28th at 7.30pm.

'Miss Peregrine's Home for peculiar children' (12A) is Tim Burton's latest weird and wonderful movie, and will be the Beehive's half term family film with two showings on Saturday, October 29th at 3pm and 7.30pm

Joanna's Wound Up for new EP release

RISING MUSIC artist Joanna Cooke - born and raised in Lyme Regis - releases her second four track EP 'Wound Up' on Tuesday, October 18th.

The lead track for radio airplay is 'More Than I Am', the EP's opener.

'Wound Up' follows Joanna's well-received 2015 EP Remember Me and "Last June" the earlier single she released with long standing musical collaborator Nathan Austin.

Joanna says: "I want to avoid my music being too similar and think it's good to have some variety in my material at this stage"

"There's something of a different approach to the group of songs on 'Wound Up'. Some of them have a harder edge and darker feel, with a fuller production than on my last record.

"Overall, the EP reflects where I am now in my music making and I hope people will enjoy listening to these new tracks."

Production on 'Wound Up' comes again from Matthew Arundell, with Nathan Austin also involved musically on the record.

As well as this new record release, 2016 is again proving to be a busy and successful time in other areas for Joanna Cooke. Once again she'll play more than 100 live shows in the year, including festivals, plus a range of radio slots.

August saw a stand out performance on BBC TV Spotlight's Summer Sessions. That was followed this month by an in-session radio appearance on BBC Introducing in Devon. Joanna's electronic dance music work continues to progress too. 'Slowing Down', the track by Brazilian DJ/Producer Vintage Culture, which includes her vocals, has now topped 1,300,000 YouTube views this year.

The Good Stuff

MASTERS of cutting edge discomfort and unparalleled laughs, comedy duo O&O announce their Autumn 2016 tour of 'The Good Stuff', their latest hour of sketch comedy fresh from a packed out run at the Edinburgh Fringe.

Described as a "young Wood & Walters" O&O, aka Marina O'Shea and Tessa (O') Gaukroger, aka The Funny One and The Tall One, followed rapturous reviews, sold out shows and a host of industry nominations with a successful debut at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival this August. Some may remember that the duo premiered a work in progress of the show at the Beehive back in March to a sold out crowd, and they are delighted to be bringing the finished show back to Devon audiences!

The Good Stuff zooms in on the little moments, the hilarity hidden in the unnoticed characters we pass each day: a manager losing control of her team, an unforgettable ride on the tube and the impending doom of rising London rents. As if this wasn't enough for one lightning fast hour led by a duo who almost definitely know each other too well, a vital 'living' prop has gone missing backstage. Everything will almost certainly end in chaos. You'll be laughing with them, at them and long after they're gone...

Accolades are now mounting, with the pair nominated for a host of awards including 'Best New Act' at London Sketchfest 2015, 'Best New Act' at Bath Comedy Festival 2015 plus a review from the Greater Manchester Fringe that whipped out the G word and raised expectations to an almost impossibly high level: "Non-stop laughter - geniuses at work."

The "geniuses at work" are performing a short Autumn tour of The Good Stuff before starting work on creating a new show for 2017. This really is your last chance to see this brilliant, fast paced hour of comedy so don't miss out!

'The Good Stuff' tour comes to The Beehive, Honiton on Friday, October 21st at 8p. Tickets are £8 or £6, available online at www.beehivehoniton.co.uk or by calling 01404 384050.

A vintage performance

THERE'S a wonderful opportunity to rediscover a forgotten jazz genius at the Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, October 21st.

Jabbo Smith and his Rhythm Aces recorded 22 tracks in 1929, and briefly became a rival to the brilliance of Louis Armstrong's Hot Five, before fading into obscurity. Now their music has been rediscovered by Dave Martin, who in 2010 formed the 'Jabbo Five' with the express purpose of playing in the style of Jabbo Smith.

Featuring leader Dave Martin on cornet/trumpet/valve trombone, together with Nick White (clarinet and alto sax), Mike Lancaster (trombone and sousaphone), Pete Miller (banjo and guitar) and Phil Blandford on piano, the line-up offers a combination of instruments that allows an exciting, lively and uncluttered interpretation of the music of Jabbo Smith and his Rhythm Aces.

Re-discovering these tracks is an exciting adventure for Dave and his fellow band members, who between them have played in many of the best-known groups of the 'Trad' era. "Jabbo, and his banjo player Ikey Robinson, wrote some wonderful numbers which are seldom heard", says Dave, "and so the 'Jabbo Five' aim to master as many of these as we can". However, the band are far from being one-trick ponies, and jazz fans will also recognise a sprinkling of deservedly popular standards in any Jabbo Five performance, including some of the seminal numbers played by Louis Armstrong and his Hot Five.

The concert promises to be a rare treat for vintage jazz fans and advance booking is recommended. Please ring the Arts Centre Box Office on 01460 54973 to avoid disappointment.

Dave Martin's Jabbo Five Quintet play live at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House on Friday, October 21st at 8pm. Tickets are £12 (pre-show supper £13 at 7pm, must be booked in advance).

For more details call 01460 54973 or visit www.themeetinghouse.org.uk

Cautionary Tales for Daughters

'CAUTIONARY Tales for Daughters - Songs your mother never taught you' composer and mother, Tanya Holt, brings a new show to Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, October 22nd. The show is a foray by song into the dark heart of growing-up and the dark arts of parenting.

A recent performance of Cautionary Tales for Daughters was described in The Times as "Hilaire Belloc does Caitlin Moran". Combining "gut-punchingly beautiful" lyricism with sharp humour, soul-shaking truths are teased out of subjects familiar to us all: the disorientation of growing up and the search for identity and acceptance. Cautionary Tales for Daughters draws on Tanya's unconventional upbringing, her own experiences as a parent and real-life stories submitted by the public to cast a playful, sometimes painfully honest, light on the challenges, travails and triumphs of parenthood. As part of the performance the audience get to contribute their own words of caution and advice, which will be shared with the wider public on the show's website.

Tales of the hapless, feckless and foolish stand as warnings: Cherry the Amazing YoYo Girl, an obsessive dieter caught between gluttony and vanity; Chanel The Labelled Girl, whose criminal obsession with designer clothes leads to her grisly demise; and fickle Princess Sylvia who only realises she could have had anything and anyone when it's too late.

It's Not OK is a heart-rending compilation of true and sometimes disturbing real-life stories drawn from group discussions Tanya undertook with men and women in Lambeth, London, where she lives. Animated backdrops illuminate the pages of a storybook as the tales unfold.

Tanya Holt

"I wanted to turn an unflinching eye on the mistakes I've made, both as a young woman, and as a mother trying to find the best way to bring up my daughter in the 21st century" says Tanya. "Should I own up to my mistakes? Would knowing them help Dotty get on in life? What is the right advice and when and how should I deliver it?"

Cautionary Tales for Daughters comes to Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, October 22nd at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12 and £10, available online via the website at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Local musicians helping support a school in Africa and protect their indigenous music

A CELEBRATE AFRICA evening of pop-rock-gospel and African songs, drums and traditional African dancers Shosholoza in aid of a School in Zambia, Africa, will take place at The Gateway, Seaton this Saturday (October 15th).

Local Musicians Lorrain de Peyer and David Norrish join forces to put on a concert for a school in the bush in Africa where they both taught in the 1970s.

When Lorrain and David both attended a reunion in London in 2013 for the girls school Njase in Zambia, Africa where they had both been teachers, they were surprised to find that they were now living as neighbours, Lorrain living in Seaton and David living in Sidmouth.

Even more of a coincidence is that one of David's many responsibilities when he taught at Njase all those years ago was to run the School Choir and that Lorrain now runs two local choirs in East Devon and Taunton.

At the school in Africa David encouraged the choir to sing the songs that come from their own languages, Tonga and Lesotho that is spoken in the surroundings areas to the school. He recorded a CD of the girls singing these songs which will be for sale at the concert. Back in the 1970's this was no mean feat as recording equipment was scarce especially in Africa.

At that time Lorrain was only nineteen years old and she taught the girls English, Games and Art at the school. She had no idea that she would later take up up music as her career and become a choir leader.

At the re-union in London for the school where Lorrain and David met up with each other they also connected with some of the X Njase students who now live in the UK. They heard how the school was in a sad state of repair and on the decline needing money for even basic things like furniture and that the X Njase School girls (now women) were setting up a charity to support the school.

So the idea to use the leverage of choirs to put on a concert for the school was born and Lorrain and asked David Norrish if he would come and teach her choirs some of the Zambian songs that the girls used to sing in his choir at Njase which you can hear at the concert. The enthusiasm for the concert has since expanded to include special guest performances from some other local choirs - The Seaton Chorus; The Rhythm of Life Choirs; a local drumming drop called Drum4Fun and a

Exeter Male Voice Choir to perform in Axminster

MINSTER Church in Axminster will host an exciting programme of traditional and popular songs and spirituals, with a guest soloist for good measure. Male Voice Choirs have been popular in this country for decades and we are privileged in Devon to have some shining examples of what they can achieve with their distinctive sounds and tones.

The concert is being organized by The Friends of the Minster whose aim is to raise money to support the enormous maintenance costs of this historic church, part of Axminster's heritage. On this occasion, all money raised will go towards the 'Minster Makeover', a planned schedule of major works to enhance the use of this building by groups other than the church itself, in sympathy with the ancient building.

The concert takes place this Saturday, October 15th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £7, available from Archway Bookshop or on the door.

very special performance from the unique and original professional dancers from Zimbabwe called Shosholoza.

The concert takes place at The Gateway, Seaton Town Hall, this Saturday, October 15th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £7, available from the box office Monday to Saturday 10am-4pm, by calling 01297 625699, by emailing seatonvoice@btinternet.com or from the website at www.seatongateway.co.uk

Most potent Volkswagen Tiguan to date is now available to order

WITH more power on tap than even the current iteration of the iconic Golf GTI, Volkswagen is making its most potent Tiguan yet available for order in the UK this October. The new 240 PS bi-turbo diesel, designated BiTDI, also offers an increase of fully 30 PS over the previous most powerful Tiguan, the 2.0 TSI seen in the preceding generation of the car.

The bi-turbo 240 PS engine is similar to that offered in the current Volkswagen Passat and Passat Alltrack, and boasts a high-performance cylinder head and two-stage turbo charger. The injection pressure of the common-rail piezo injection system is a mighty 2,500 bar and the engine is capable of generating up to 120 PS per litre.

Mated as standard to Volkswagen's 4MOTION four-wheel drive system, it endows the new Tiguan with prodigious performance in the mainstream SUV segment. Capable of reaching 142 mph, where the law permits, the 2.0 BiTDI-equipped Tiguan meanwhile sprints from rest to 62 mph in just 6.5 seconds.

Selective Catalytic Reduction helps to reduce emissions by injecting AdBlue™ into the Tiguan's exhaust system, thus helping to reduce NOx by converting it into harmless water. The Volkswagen SUV also includes a Start/Stop system and battery regeneration which, together, contribute to a CO₂ figure of just 167 g/km*. All the engines in the Tiguan range meet the latest EU6 emissions standard.

As well as the 240 PS bi-turbo engine, the most powerful of the Tiguan's three petrol engines is also now open for order in the UK. The 2.0 TSI 180 PS is available with a six-speed manual or seven-speed DSG transmission. It is also offered as standard with 4MOTION four-wheel drive and offers a top speed of 129 mph, 0-62 mph time of 7.7 seconds and a CO₂ figure of 170 g/km*.

Both new Tiguan engines are exclusively offered with the range-topping SEL or R-Line trims. The Tiguan SEL packs a technological punch with standard features that include Volkswagen's Discover Navigation information and satellite navigation system, which includes an eight-inch colour touch-screen. Adaptive Cruise Control uses radar to govern the distance to the car ahead automatically. In addition the SEL comes with Active Info Display – a 12.3-inch high-resolution TFT screen located within the binnacle and replacing conventional analogue instruments. It can be configured to show a variety of information about the car, or even relay the satellite navigation route guidance.

Meanwhile for R-Line, read excitement! In addition to the features available on the SEL, the Tiguan R-Line carries many unique styling features inside and out. A roof spoiler is joined by a rear diffuser and a front air intake to highlight the kerb appeal of the car. The 'Suzuka' alloy wheels measure 20-inches and the bumper design is unique to the trim.

On the inside, unique R-Line sill protectors and carpet mats are joined by bespoke 'Race' cloth seats feature 'San Remo' microfibre, while the front seats also feature the R-Line logo on the headrest. Stainless steel pedals and a black roofline complete the look.

The addition of these two new engine options in Tiguan completes the model's seven-strong powerplant range, which now extends from 1.4 TSI 125 PS to 2.0 BiTDI 240 PS.

The Tiguan SEL 2.0 TSI 180 PS six-speed manual 4MOTION is available to order now from Volkswagen. Retailers nationwide priced from £30,540 RRP OTR, while the Tiguan SEL 2.0 BiTDI 240 PS seven-speed DSG 4MOTION costs from £36,450 RRP OTR. The new engines in R-Line trim cost from £32,855 RRP OTR for the 2.0 TSI 180 PS unit to £38,640 RRP OTR for the 2.0 BiTDI 240 PS.

For more information about the new Tiguan – together with brochures and pricing – and to use Volkswagen's online configurator, please visit www.volkswagen.co.uk.

New Audi Q3 Black Edition headlines updated UK range

THE dark and brooding good looks of the Black Edition models that have been mainstays of the Audi A4, A5, A6 and A7 Sportback ranges have inspired a new Q3 Black Edition that spearheads a wholesale update of the perennially popular compact SUV line-up. The new top flight Q3 and the sharper, even better equipped versions that sit below it will become available later this month priced from £26,600 OTR, and will reach their first customers towards the end of the year.

As part of the programme of revisions the current Q3 specification structure, starting with SE, moving to S line Navigation and then on to S line plus, has shifted further upwards. At entry level, SE becomes Sport through the addition of SD navigation as standard and through styling enhancements that lend an even more purposeful air, including larger front air vents and a body-coloured front diffuser.

S line Navigation models become S line Edition by gaining standard interior features such as cruise control and the Audi Parking System Plus, and by adopting a new look for the front end, which now incorporates a distinctive horizontal strut spanning its full width, above which are air inlets with more pronounced surrounds and a new diamond-pattern mesh design. They flank a more eye-catching Single Frame grille with a new high gloss finish which is also shared by the air vents.

The main attraction in the range is now the Q3 Black Edition, which stays true to the concept introduced so successfully elsewhere in the Audi range. Replacing the S line plus model, it builds on that version's already extensive specification with features such as standard metallic paint, privacy glass from the B pillar rearwards and a Bose sound system upgrade, but its key point of differentiation is of course the distinctive black treatment for many of its parts. These start in the cabin with piano black inlays, and continue outside to take in everything from the 19-inch alloy wheels, wheel arch cappings and Single Frame grille surround to the roof rails, rear spoiler and tailpipes, all of which are finished in gloss black.

Extensive specification

Aside from the now range-wide satellite navigation, standard equipment for all Q3 models is plentiful, and includes Audi Music and Bluetooth interfaces, sensor control for parking (rear only in the Sport, front and rear in the S line Edition and Black Edition), for lighting and for wiper function, dual-zone climate control and a Concert audio system with DAB radio linked to a 6.5-inch manually retractable colour monitor. Xenon headlights with LED daytime running lights and LED tail lights feature as standard in Sport versions, while S line Edition and Black Edition specification levels upgrade to all-weather LED headlights and dynamic 'scrolling' rear indicators which illuminate sequentially within two-tenths of a second from the inside out in the direction the driver intends to turn.

Under the skin, two TDI diesel and two TFSI petrol engines are available, depending on the chosen specification. The 1.4-litre TFSI with Cylinder-on-Demand technology brings 150PS and the option of either manual or S tronic twin-clutch automatic transmission. It gives the exclusively front-wheel-driven Q3 1.4 TFSI a 0-62mph sprint time of as little as 8.9 seconds (S tronic), but also 51.4mpg capability (manual) based on the combined cycle test. Above it in the petrol line-up is a 2.0-litre TFSI unit with 180PS, which can be linked to either manual or S tronic transmission and works with quattro all-wheel-drive without exception.

Forming the diesel contingent are two four-cylinder, 2.0-litre TDIs with outputs of 150PS and 184PS. When linked to manual transmission and Sport specification with its 17-inch wheels, the 150PS version has the potential to return up to 62.8mpg with CO2 output of just 117g/km.

The 2.0-litre 150PS TDI engine can work with either manual or S tronic transmission and can channel its output through either the front wheels only or through all four with the help of the quattro system. The 184PS version also offers two transmission options, but deploys its heightened power and torque solely via quattro drive.

Audi drive select as standard

The composed agility of the Q3 chassis imparts a nimble feel that belies its SUV dimensions, and the Audi drive select adaptive dynamics system – a standard feature of all Q3 models – enables drivers to make the most of it by adjusting throttle response, automatic transmission shift points and operating characteristics of other optional components such as the damper control system to suit personal preferences.

Up to five adults can enjoy the ride in comfort and with space to spare, and their luggage can be equally comfortably accommodated in the 420-litre load compartment, which in S line Edition and Black Edition versions is accessible at the touch of a button thanks to powered tailgate operation. When the back seat is free, its split backrest can be folded to liberate a total of 1,325 litres of cargo capacity.

Unsettled Blues grab a point – Trio through in Somerset Junior Cup

Chard Town 2 Bishops Lydeard 3 Toolstation D1 – att; 240

THE first ever league game played on a Sunday at Zembard Lane ended in defeat for Chard Town in the local derby with newly promoted Bishops Lydeard.

After a goal less first half, watched by a groundhopper-boosted bumper crowd of 240, the Bishops took the lead when Mark Clunie netted with a crisp shot in the 50th minute. The visitors lead was doubled seven minutes later when Zac Ryder smashed home a superb volley.

Some scrappy defending allowed James Boyland the halve the Robins' arrears in the 71st minute.

But the two-goal cushion was restored four minutes later and Steve Friend's sixth goal of the season three minutes of time came too late to save the Robins.

Chard now sit 13th in the table ahead of the visit of CHEDDAR tomorrow (Wednesday, 7.30pm ko) in the first of four consecutive home games for Paul Down and his squad.

WELTON ROVERS are next up at the Lane on Saturday (3pm).

DEVON PREMIER CUP

AXMINSTER TOWN 2 PLYMOUTH MARJON 0
FIRST half goals from Luke Finn and Nathan Warren were enough to clinch Axminster Town a place in the last 32 of the Devon Premier Cup.

After a sluggish start the Tigers began to fashion some chances with both Warren and Liam Cleal foiled by some fine saves by the visiting keeper.

But he could do nothing about the opener in the 35th minute when Finn wrong footed his marker with a sharp turn and shot low into the corner of the net.

Deservedly the Tigers bagged a second just before half time when top scorer Warren converted for his third goal in four matches after the Marjon defence had made a hash of dealing with a Ben Vine cross.

The hosts strolled through the second half with few alarms having already done more than enough to earn a place in the next round.

Next up for Axminster in next Saturday's SW Peninsula League trip to face TORRIDDGESIDE.

SOMERSET LEAGUE – D1W

ILMINSTER TOWN 3 HIGHBRIDGE 3

ILMINSTER Town dropped to third spot on goal difference after their third 3-3 draw of the season.

The Blues' preparation was hampered by the loss of regular keeper Casper Paine who cried off at 2.30pm leaving Jonny Manley to don the gloves.

Undeterred, Taylor Jefferson fired Ilminster ahead in the 10th minute.

But the visitors turned things around with the hosts unable to cope with a fleet footed winger who twice cut-in from the flank and finished well at the near post. And he completed his hat-trick from the penalty spot right on half time.

Trailing 3-1 at the interval, Ilminster boss Jason Manley switched to a 4-2 formation and it paid dividends as Matt Brown pulled one back before Jefferson salvaged a point with his second, this time from the penalty spot, right at the death.

"I'm happy with the point against a strong side – particularly after having to reshuffle the side just before kick off," said Manley.

Ilminster welcome Burnham United on Saturday (3pm).

Ilminster: Jonny Manley, Josh Parsons, Jon MayDarren Brown, Matt Brown, Jack Male (Karl Davis), Brad Miles (Capt), Aaron Sweet, Joe Simmons, Chris Neziyanya, Taylor Jefferson.

After a weekend off Combe St Nicholas are back in action on Saturday with a League Cup tie at home against Winscombe.

SOMERSET JUNIOR CUP

JUST three local sides survived Saturday's county cup ties to take their place in round three of the Somerset Junior Cup.

Goals from Jamie Spurdle (2), Adam Dawe, Scott Barry and Jack Blunn helped MISTERTON to a 5-2 win over Purnell Sports Reserves at Unity Lane.

SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP booked their spot with what player-manager Doug Whitfield described as "Probably our best performance of the season so far."

Shepton were punished for missing some early chances when the visitors took the lead.

But Aaron Stayner squared things up before half time with a clever free-kick that curled around the wall to leave the Stoke keeper flat footed.

Whitfield and striker Jordan Brain were both then guilty of missing good opportunities and the game went into extra time.

Ben Pitman finally edged the hosts ahead in the 105th minute and Ben Brister clinched the win 60 seconds later. Brad Pitman earned Whitfield's vote for MoM.

The third local side through are PERRY STREET who were awarded a walkover win over Yeovil & District League side Wagtail Athletic.

Elsewhere, CHARD UNITED were hammered 8-0 at Coleford while WEST & MIDDLE CHINNOCK suffered a similar fate going down 6-0 at Frome Collegians.

Over at Lightgate Lane SOUTH PETHERTON were on the back foot early on when they conceded twice in the opening five minutes against highly-rated visitors Freshford.

Pethy improved in the second-half but came up against an in-form keeper who even made one save with his face!

The hosts pulled one back when defender Tom Case rose well to head in Dan Kadir's corner but the couldn't conjure up a second.

"We just didn't create enough chances and the first five minutes really hurt us," said Pethy assistant manager Andy Loudon who, with Karl Diment on holds, held the reins for the day and selected Shane Adcock-Case as the MoM.

Finally, BARRINGTON failed to raise a team for the visit of Draycott who were awarded a walkover into round three.

DOWLISH & DONYATT 3 PYMORE 3

(PYMORE WON 5-4 ON PENS)

THERE was an astonishing cup-tie on the Dowlish slope where Pymore played for 120 minutes with nine men and still had enough energy to win the eventual penalty shoot-out 5-4.

Two no-shows and a clutch of unavailabilities meant the Division One side were forced to start the game with just nine players.

Undeterred, they led through a Tim Hussey strike at half-time. Amazingly this was then doubled by Dom Hackett after the interval.

The game then took a twist when D&D keeper Sam Grinter injured a thumb and was forced to hand over the gloves to veteran Andy North. Grinter then took over up front and promptly scored twice to force the extra half-hour!

Grinter then completed his hat-trick in the 95th minute to put the Division Two Dodgers ahead for the first time in the match.

But Pymore responded well with Liam Trott equalising seven minutes later.

Both sides put efforts wide in the shoot out and it was left to Robbie Walters to convert the sudden death winner and earn his side a place in the quarter finals.

WINSHAM UTD 1 COMBE RESERVES 0

WINSHAM United too full advantage in the only league match in the division with a gritty 1-0 win over a strong Combe Reserves at Bakersfield.

There was little between the teams with clear-cut chances at a premium in a goal less first half.

It appeared as though that is how it would finish when one moment of brilliance decided an otherwise forgettable encounter.

A corner from Winsham substitute Ryan Clegg eventually reached Darren Spurdle who conjured up an acrobatic scissor-kick to smash the ball into the top corner for a Goal of the Season contender.

The win send Winsham five points clear at the top with six games played.

DIVISION ONE

A GAVIN Herrod hat-trick proved too much for visiting Combe A as Hawkchurch United continued their impressive start to the season.

James Melville netted the other two for the Hawks who led 3-0 and 5-1. Adam Tovey (2) and Stuart Glover scored for the Saints.

Forton Rangers are also going well. A fine strike from Jake Board and Chris Warry penalty saw Dave Ellis' side to a 2-1 win over Ilminster Colts whose goal came courtesy of a Craig Studley OG.

But once again it was the South Petherton Reserves' goalkeeper who was one of the busiest men of the weekend.

After having just nine players last week, Pethy rustled up 14 but the outcome was the same as they were once again beaten 20-0.

Striker Nick Mortimer led the way with a triple hat-trick with Jack Steer (3), Sam Rowsell (3), Luke Gosney (2), Mark Tweedie (2) and Dan Rudge wading in with the others.

"I felt for them (South Petherton) today, but they never gave up and tried to play a bit as well," said Rovers' boss Dan Childs.

Mortimer, a new signing, has Toolstation Western League experience with both Street and Glastonbury.

Over the Devon border, goals from James Walpole and Jack Lyons earned Shepton Beauchamp Reserves a fine 2-1 win at Uplyme.

"We were a tad fortunate to come away with all three points, but the hard work and grit was rewarded," said Shepton player-manager Terry Crocker. Jake Bearpark netted for Uplyme who had Brad Rowe sent off.

Stone back with top 10 finish in Minster Challenge

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter
VICTORIA Hiron went way up north to York for her first ever marathon which she completed in 5:42:46.

The weather conditions were just right, with a fantastic atmosphere and Vicky really enjoyed being with family back at her roots. There was a bit of a hill at the finish and she slowed down twixt miles 17-20, but perked up again at mile 21. She would never have been able to run that distance without the help of AVR beginner's leaders Janet Woodward and Gill Day.

Elsewhere, Lynn and Caitlyn Sloman both competed in the "Festival Run" at Worthy Farm Pilton, the site of Glastonbury Festival. Lynn clocked around the 5K in 31:31 and Caitlyn rolled the 2k run in 9:57.

CHARD ROAD RUNNERS

with Paul Masters
ANDREW Leeson and Ryan Hebron-Wheatley headed off to Salisbury for the 700-strong flat road Half Marathon. Leeson finishing in a fantastic time of 1h 32m 42s (58th/727) while Hebron-Wheatley, in his first Half Marathon, finished in a 1h 49m 6s 237th/727 a PB and a good 15 minutes ahead of his goal time.

Meanwhile, Adrian Male who headed off for the Pilton Festival 10k, this off road race recording a time of 48m 50s and 62nd/396.

HONITON RUNNERS

with Judy Davey
SHERRI Hare, Paula Ferris, Suzanne, Simon Spiller and Sharon Wells decided to take on the South West Coast Path race from East Portsmouth to Dartmouth listed as approximately 17.5 miles.

The distance measuring was a little fluid as when the runners crossed the finish line their watches all said 19 miles. All involved finished between 4:10 and 4:30.

Meanwhile, Honiton Runners also attended the Axminster-based seven-mile long Minster Challenge. Ben Stone did well in his come back run to come 7th in 54 minutes 35 seconds.

Gemma Collier was first lady overall in 10th place in 55:43. David Hawker also had a great run coming just after Gemma in 56:13.

Adam Hennessey followed just six seconds later. Other results; Sascha Kranen's 35th in 1:09:04, Tim Wigram 39th place in 1:10:29, Rachel Hennessey 53rd in 1:17:33.

Hurst lands first international title

BRITISH duo Emma Hurst (Seaton Tennis Club & Bath University) and Laura Sainsbury from Bristol had an impressive week at the National Tennis Centre as they took the Aegon GB Pro-Series title at Roehampton, London.

On route to their victory the South West pair knocked out fellow Brits and number one seeds Grey & Nicholls, who are currently ranked 502 in the world.

Hurst & Sainsbury claimed the title after a thrilling 4-6 6-4 10-4 victory against Muma & Sisk from the USA.

Minehead B 0 Chard A 4

CHARD have enjoyed bigger wins against their opponents over the past few seasons, but the margin of victory would have been greater but for some excellent saves from the home keeper and a number of goal line clearances.

The Chard team was bolstered by the inclusion of Justin and Simon Green, the promotion of James Float from the 3rds and the arrival of Mike Lane in midfield, a product of the Club's successful 'Back to Hocke' sessions this summer.

Captain James Spurdle has donned the keeper's pads and, after he dived out to deny Minehead with their first foray forward, Chard took a grip on the game, the home side grateful to their keeper and some last ditch defending for preventing Chard taking a deserved lead.

Their resistance was finally broken by a Trevor Goss goal ten minutes before half time.

Chard had to be patient in the early stages of the second half, as again, their dominance created more chances but no goals.

Eventually, Jason Goddard fired home. Then Goss put Goddard in behind the defence and his scorching cross was deflected into the net off defender and.

Minehead's keeper had denied Harvey Denning twice with athletic saves in each half but he could only deflect the ball into the roof of the net when Denning powered in a shot.

His miss from a penalty flick in the last few minutes mattered little with Chard now fully in control.

Squad: J Spurdle, S Green, T Eames, A Critchley, S Mahoney, M Lane, J Goddard, T Goss, N Liggins, J Green, H Denning, J Float.

Honiton Hornets 5 Okehampton 2nds 2

HONITON Ladies faced tougher opposition in Okehampton who had a very strong defensive line up making it hard for the Hornets to get the ball over the line, and some skilful forwards who were quick on the counter attack.

Amy Phillips put Honiton ahead when she took a quick self-pass from a free hit working the ball into the top of the circle before unleashing a strong strike which the keeper was unable to reach.

Shortly after Phillips made it 2-0 with a neat short corner strike.

Oke pulled one back only before half time only for Vanessa Trude to restore the Hornets' a two goal cushion.

But the visitors started the second half well and soon made it 3-s and the Hornets' appeared rattled.

However, a Phillips pass found Sophie George who made no mistake to settle the hosts' nerves. And was Player-of-the-Match George who set up Trude for the final goal to seal the win.

Honiton Hornets are always keen to welcome new players to their friendly and competitive team. Please see www.wcwhl.co.uk for contact details.

sailing news

Fleet trail in Dyer's wake

SUTTON Bingham Sailing Club hosted the Laser Class for their annual South Coast Grand Prix event last Saturday with 19 sailors battling it out over a series of three races.

The Laser has three sail sizes and there were two fleet starts for each race; Laser Standards followed five minutes later by the Laser Radials and 4.7 rigs.

The shifty north-westerly breeze gave Principal Race Officer, Mike Riley a challenging task to set good courses but he succeeded in testing the competitors to get the best from their dinghies.

In the Laser Standard fleet it was Martock's Rob Dyer, a former Laser 4.7 national champion, who mastered the conditions and secured three straight race wins.

In the Radial/4.7 fleet Andrew Frost, quickly got to grips with a borrowed boat to win the first race.

Blustery conditions in the second race saw Chris Jones take an early lead but as the wind moderated Frost and Alex Butler caught up and a close tactical battle ensued.

In the end Frost won the Laser Radial title and Jones slipped ahead of Butler on the final beat and covered him to the finish.

This set up a three way challenge for second place overall between Jones, Butler and Cowell.

Jones led the final race until the second lap when he was overhauled by Butler, who won the race and Laser Radial runner-up.

Overall results - Standard Fleet: 1st Rob Dyer, Sutton Bingham SC (1.1.1), 2nd Greg Bartlett, Starcross SC (2.3.2), 3rd Peter May, Spinnaker SC (6.2.4).

Radial/4.7 Fleet: 1st Andrew Frost, Sutton Bingham SC (1.1.3), 2nd Alex Butler, Hayling Island SC (4.3.1), 3rd Chris Jones, Sutton Bingham SC (5.2.2).

The East Devon Trophy is an annual competition between Honiton, Sidmouth and Axe Cliff golf clubs which has been running for around 40 years.

Ladies hold unbeaten Withycombe

Clevedon 67 Chard 5
South West One

IN many ways this game was a carbon copy of the one at Weston last weekend.

Chard competed well in the forwards but were outplayed in the backs by the Clevedon threequarters.

The Chard backs did their best and never gave up but in reality had a very difficult afternoon.

Before running in a clutch of tries Clevedon had gone ahead with two 50metre penalty kicks.

When the ball was with the forwards Chard competed well and, the efforts of Dave Biss, Ben Robinson, Luke Aplin, Jack Larcombe, Max Gosden, Joe Mainwaring, Matt Tingley and debutant Warren Lewis were impressive while Ben Johnson at nine worked well with the pack.

Clevedon were ruthless and led 25-0 at the break.

Unfortunately losing possession at the breakdown gave Clevedon opportunities to score tries early in the 2nd half but Chard were rewarded for their efforts when Jack Larcombe crossed for a well deserved try.

No complaints about the effort made by Chard with everyone doing their best in difficult circumstances.

Cheddar 2nds 7 Chard 3rds 22
Somerset Three South

PLAYING up the slope in the first half, scored a try in the opening minute when MoM Adrian Phillips crossed the Cheddar line. Gavin Smillie converted with a splendid kick.

Phillips went over for his second soon after following some fine work by the pack.

Chard were well on top but an error resulted in the ball being turned over and Cheddar broke away to score a converted try.

Chard began second half 12-7 ahead and with the slope in their favour scored two further tries through Gavin Watts and Josh Webster.

There are no scheduled League matches next weekend for any of the Chard Senior teams.
